NOTICE

Suspension

On March 21, 2018, a Hearing Committee of the Law Society of Alberta found Taranjeet Aujla, a member of the Law Society who lives and practices in Calgary, Alberta, to be guilty of failing to properly supervise support staff including on matters which allowed the improper alteration of a document, signing cheques to disburse trust funds that were received for no legal purpose, failing to conscientiously serve his clients, including failing to get instructions on matters not within his express or implied authority, and assisting a third party in an improper purpose.

The Hearing Committee ordered that Mr. Aujla be suspended for 12 months commencing on July 1, 2018. In addition, Mr. Aujla is permanently restricted from practicing real estate law.

The full written decision of the Hearing Committee can be found on the Law Society of Alberta website.

The following lawyer shall assume carriage of Mr. Aujla's practice:
