

LAW SOCIETY of ALBERTA

STATEMENT OF REGULATORY OBJECTIVES

The core purpose of the Law Society of Alberta (“Law Society”) is to regulate the profession in the public interest.

The Law Society views its core purpose as an active obligation and duty to uphold and protect the public interest in the delivery of legal services. The public interest, as it applies to the work of the Law Society, will be upheld and protected through the following regulatory objectives:

- a ➤ Protect those who use legal services;
- b ➤ Promote the independence of the legal profession, the administration of justice and the rule of law;
- c ➤ Create and promote required standards for the ethical and competent delivery of legal services and enforce compliance with those standards in a manner that is fair, transparent, efficient, proactive, proportionate and principled;
- d ➤ Promote access to legal services; and
- e ➤ Promote equity, diversity and inclusion in the legal profession and in the delivery of legal services.

The Law Society will have regard for these regulatory objectives when discharging its regulatory functions.
