Match yourself with other lawyers for a one-hour meeting

Mentor Express

Mentor Express is a quick and easy way to meet with experienced members of the profession. Mentees browse an online listing of mentors and choose one-hour sessions with those they are interested in meeting.

This self-match system allows mentees to seek guidance and insight relevant to their own career development with a variety of mentors in different work settings.

Over the course of the program, participants build their professional network by meeting with multiple mentors.

Meetings can be held either in person or remotely depending on preferences.

Receive one-off help on a substantive legal issue

AdvisorLink

AdvisorLink is a service that links lawyers or articling students with more experienced counsel and is aimed at ensuring that the public continues to receive quality legal services.

The program carries on the longstanding tradition of the Alberta bar in providing assistance to professional colleagues.

These volunteer advisors answer your one-off substantive law inquiries in a wide range of practice areas.

Build connections as an Indigenous lawyer, articling student or law student

Indigenous Mentorship Program

This program provides an opportunity for Indigenous law students and articling students to meet and connect with experienced Indigenous counsel.

Mentees meet one-on-one with their mentor for advice, guidance and connections. Pairs are matched for six months by Law Society staff based on similar interests and backgrounds.
