

Lawyer Directory How-To Guide

The Law Society of Alberta does not recommend or endorse individual lawyers.

The Lawyer Directory is an online tool that provides access to the contact information of lawyers in the province. It is still up to the public to research and choose a lawyer based on their individual needs.

Access the Lawyer Directory through the Law Society website at lawsociety.ab.ca/findalawyer or visit the Lawyer Directory directly at <https://lsa.memberpro.net/main/body.cfm>.

The Lawyer Directory is an online tool that helps you:

- find information on a specific lawyer; or
- find a lawyer who can help you with your legal issue based on certain search criteria.

Using Lawyer Directory to Find Information on a Specific Lawyer

To find the business contact information, practising status, discipline history and admission date for a specific practising lawyer or students-at-law registered with the Law Society of Alberta, enter their last name and/or first name into the fields below and click SEARCH.

Review the results to learn more about the specific lawyer.

Using Lawyer Directory to Find Lawyers Based on your Legal Issue

When using the Lawyer Directory to find a lawyer for your legal issue, please note the following:

- Not all lawyers have their contact information published in the Lawyer Directory. Those lawyers may not be taking on new clients, have roles inside companies or government, are non-practising, suspended, disbarred or do not have a business address.
- To help you find which area of law is relevant to your legal issue, visit our Practice Areas resource for the public.
- For more information on upcoming hearings for an individual lawyer, visit the Law Society website.

Follow the instructions below to search for a lawyer in Alberta.

- 1) Expand the Advanced Search Options button and the available dropdown menus to enter in your search criteria for a lawyer.

 To find a Lawyer, enter your criteria and click Search.

SEARCH

- a) Practising Status refers to whether a lawyer is currently practising or not. Select Practising to filter for lawyers who can help you with your legal issue. Please note that you must select at least one of the following filters for Lawyer Directory to produce a result.
- b) City/Town refers to the location that a lawyer has noted as their primary practice location. If you live in a smaller community, please note that the Directory may give you limited options as there is likely a smaller number of lawyers who select your community as their primary practice location. Consider choosing a larger metropolitan area that is closest to you if you want to pull a larger list of options.
- c) Firm/Company Name refers to the firm/organization where the lawyer works. If you have a specific firm/organization in mind that you would like to work with, you can type in the name in this field.

- d) Gender refers to the gender that the lawyer has identified as.
- e) Languages Spoken refers to the languages that a lawyer can speak. Choose a language that you are comfortable speaking to ensure that you receive advice you can understand. Please note that English is not listed in the dropdown menu, as it is included as the default for all lawyers in Alberta.
- f) Practice Areas refers to the type of law that the lawyer practices. There are many types of law to choose from, and this filter is particularly useful to help you narrow down the type of lawyer you may need. Figuring out what type of lawyer you need is often the most challenging part of dealing with a legal issue. View this resource on our website for a detailed explanation of each practice area.
- g) You can also check whether or not the lawyer offers Limited Scope Retainers. A limited scope retainer allows a lawyer to provide limited services to a client, such as representing the client for only part of a legal matter. For example, a lawyer may draft documents on behalf of a client but not represent them in court. This can be a way to lower your costs when looking for a lawyer.

Please Note: This option only displays once you have expanded the Practice Areas dropdown menu.

- 2) Click “Search” to generate a list of lawyers that satisfy your search criteria.

Reviewing Lawyer Profiles and Choosing a Lawyer

- 3) Once you have your list of lawyers that satisfy your search criteria, you can click into individual lawyer profiles to learn more about them.

- a) Lawyers' profiles can show their name, business address, phone number, practising status and the year they became a lawyer in Alberta (enrolment date). Lawyers may choose not to publish their contact information if they are not accepting new clients or are working as in-house or government counsel.
- i) Lawyers can have different practising statuses depending on the type of work they do and the way they do their work. When you are looking for a lawyer to help with your legal issue, you want to make sure that their practising status is listed as Practising. While there may be conditions or restrictions on the license, this means that the lawyer has a license that allows them to provide legal services to the public.

Practising (Out of Province) is another possible status that means the lawyer is licensed in Alberta but is also licensed elsewhere and currently practises outside of Alberta. These lawyers may also be able to help you with your legal issue if remote service is an option.

There are other common practising statuses you will see in the Lawyer Directory listed below. Please do not contact lawyers with the following statuses as they will not be able to assist you with your legal issue.

- Practising (Corporate/Government Counsel) means the lawyer is licensed to provide legal services, but only to or on behalf of a specific organization and not members of the public.

- Practising (Corporate/Government Counsel, Out of Province) is the same as practising (corporate/government counsel) but practises outside of Alberta.
- Non-Practising means the lawyer does not currently hold a class of license that permits them to provide legal services.
- Inactive is another type of status that means the lawyer does not currently hold a class of license that permits them to provide legal services.
- Suspended means the lawyer is not permitted to provide legal services as their license is currently suspended because of disciplinary proceedings.
- Administration Suspension means the lawyer is not permitted to provide legal services as their license is currently suspended for not meeting an administrative requirement.
- Former means the lawyer was once but is no longer a licensed member of the Law Society of Alberta.
- Disbarred means the lawyer was once a licensed member but has since had their license revoked because of disciplinary proceedings.

- b) A lawyer's profile also shows if they have current citations, discipline history, notices or hearing reports. It is important to be informed about a lawyer's previous conduct before contacting them or hiring them regarding your legal issue.
 - i) Please note that a lawyer's profile will display any discipline history dating back to Jan. 1, 2015. To find discipline history before this date, visit the Regulation section of our website or contact the Law Society.
 - c) A lawyer's profile can also be printed from the Lawyer Directory if needed.
- 4) Once you have completed your research and narrowed down your options to one or two lawyers you would like to contact, review the following resources on our website. It is important to understand the process of hiring a lawyer and know what to expect from the relationship before reaching out.
 - Twelve Questions to Ask Before Hiring a Lawyer
 - Understanding Lawyer Fees
 - Working with a Lawyer

- Legal Information Resources

5) Now that you are prepared for the conversation, contact the lawyers you have identified to learn more information about the services they provide, the fees involved and whether they can help with your specific legal issue.
